

Rabun County Board Hires TCG for Hospital Sale

Clayton, GA, September, 2004 – It was announced by Rabun County Board of Commissioners Chairman, Eston Melton, that Taylor Consulting Group, Inc. has been hired to aid in negotiations regarding the possible sale of Rabun County Hospital. Taylor Consulting Group joins the team along side Sutherland, Asbil & Brennan, an Atlanta-based law firm hired to provide legal support.

"We're looking forward to our range of involvement with Rabun County. Taylor Consulting Group is excited to provide our client with specialized financial solutions for the possible sale of Rabun Hospital as well as the opportunity to further develop our business relationships with the Rabun Board," said Beth Petra, Director of Marketing.

Rabun County Hospital is located in Clayton, Georgia and provides inpatient, outpatient, and emergency care services to the people of Rabun County and surrounding areas. Founded in 1951, Rabun County Hospital has proudly served constituencies as a community-owned and operated hospital and is an active member of the American and Georgia Hospital Associations.

SOURCE: The Clayton Tribune, September 30, 2004

Taylor Consulting Group is a leading financial consultancy offering a full range of services, including business valuations, middle-market mergers and acquisitions, business litigation support, fairness opinions, and other financial advisory services. Since 1988, the firm has served hundreds of clients from closely-held businesses to Fortune 500 corporations in the Southeast and across the country.

Taylor Consulting Group, Inc. – Financial Advisors to Business